

Bank bureaucracy

MY sister sent me 500 dollars to pay for certain expenses incurred in Pakistan. I deposited the money in my account on Monday and was told that the proceeds would be credited in my account on the following Monday.

If I had taken the trouble to exchange the dollars in the open market I would not only have received additional Pakistani rupees for the dollars but received my money immediately.

I hope the government and finance minister look into this issue and address the anomaly, as it is Pakistan that is losing precious foreign exchange.
